One of them blinks, the other one rattles - who can collect the most robot families?

This unusual happy family game is great card game fun for the whole family. The heart-warming illustrations by Ina Kappes invite you to swap, collect and win. The handy format makes it the perfect gift or souvenir.

Creative People:

Illustrator: Ina Kappes first studied fashion design and created children's clothing until she realised she'd rather be immersed in the fantastic and colourful world of children's books. She works as a freelance illustrator and lives with her family in a small town in Upper Bavaria.
